

Stephenie Hawkins

As an event coordinator and planner, Stephenie brings insight and expertise that only experience provides. She has been planning and executing tradeshow and conferences across North America for three years, and has extensive experience planning social events as well. Regardless of the setting, Stephenie is well-versed in managing the many vendors (venue, catering, AV, decorator, security, signage, etc.) it takes to ensure a smooth event.

Stephenie went to college in Napa Valley, where she fell in love with the hospitality industry and worked at a high end resort, and from there gained extensive experience working with the public. Her career has provided her with the knowhow for solving potential issues quickly and before anyone is aware, all the while with a smile on her face!
